WEST VIRGINIA. Returns slowly coming in Democratic Majority from 400 to 500.

WHEELING, W. Va., Oct. 16.—The returns are very meagre and satisfactory. At Fairmont only 237 votes have been counted of the 568 polled.

Complete returns from Pleasant County give Wilson 708 and Maxwell 655. Incomplete returns from Ohio County indicate the election of the Democratic county ticket by 300 majority.

Hancock County shows a Republican gain of 50 on the State ticket. In Preston County three precincts which gave Garfield 144 majority, now give Maxwell 245 majority.

Mineral County elects a Democratic County ticket by a small majority, and gives Wilson (Dem.) for Congress a majority.

WHEELING, W. Va., Oct. 16.—Correspondents who assume to give majorities for either party in this State from the exceptionally meagre returns, are daring probabilities.

There is yet nothing on which to base an estimate. At 8 o'clock but seven counties had sent complete returns. They show a net Republican gain of 600.

Partial returns from Hampshire indicate a Republican gain of 700. Greenbrier, 314 counted, indicate 900 Republican gain.

Twelve precincts of Kanawha County give 400 Republican majority, which indicates a Democratic gain of 800 in the county.

Putnam County, partial returns show Democratic gains. A part of Grant County gives 75 Republican gain.

Summers County shows a Democratic gain of 20. Of the 150,000 votes cast not over 30,000 or 30,000 have been heard from. The net Republican gain is 9,683.

The same ratio would elect the Republican ticket by 2,000, but there is not the least certainty as to the final outcome. The Democrats believe in a safe victory.

Chairman Leonard, of Parkersburg, of the Democratic Committee, telegraphs that the State will go Democratic by 10,000 to 15,000. He does not, however, give any good reason for his predictions.

On the other hand the returns show Republican gains. Opinions from Washington. WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—The result of the Ohio election is a topic of conversation everywhere here.

Republicans are, of course, jubilant, and Democrats generally dispirited. The result is a surprise. Secretary Groshen believes the victory in Ohio will take New York, Indiana, New Jersey and Connecticut from out of the list of doubtful or Democratic States.

It makes them certain for Blaine and Logan next November, thus insuring their election," he said. The President and Secretary Lincoln are understood to share in this belief.

Senator Beck, who arrived here to-day, expressed himself as neither surprised nor discouraged at the result in Ohio. New York, he considers, is safe for Cleveland in November.

He believes the country will not equal the Democratic candidate will surely win without Ohio. On all else the belief is general that within three weeks the country will witness the hardest political struggles ever seen.

Jewelry House Failure. TORONTO, Oct. 17.—Wolfe Bros., Jewelers, on King street, assigned yesterday. The failure of the firm has caused considerable loss to the partners being unacquainted with the business, and their connection with a jewelry house in Winnipeg, which failed early in the year. The liabilities are at $20,000.

"Take your time, gentlemen. We have got the whole night before us. I am quite familiar with large audiences but this is one of the largest I ever saw. You may say to me, 'I am not a Democrat, but I have no more movement in my country for the last forty years which went down to the groundwork of principles that I had not according to the nature of my strength, had a great deal to do with.'"

ASYLUM HORRORS.

Serious Charges of Cruelty and Inhumanity Against Nuns.

MONTREAL, Que., Oct. 17.—Dr. Hacktuck, the famous English lunatic expert, has published a report on the condition of the Government Insane Asylum in this province, in which he says it is impossible to convey an adequate idea of the horrors he witnessed.

He says the treatment adopted is a relic of barbarism. In the upper flat in a small room he found sixty men confined, all under restraint, handcuffed and strapped to chains. In other parts of the building he found cells without windows and with wretched ventilation.

In a totally dark cell he discovered a man stark naked lying on straw and handcuffed. In another a man deaf and dumb was similarly manacled in an empty room, without bed or bedding. The woman's room he described as a chamber of horrors and even more terrible than the portion where the men are kept. In conclusion he says it is amazing that a colony of England can present such a spectacle. The asylum is under the charge of a Government inquiry will be instituted.

Collision on the Rail.

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 17.—The through passenger train on the Canada Southern which leaves Windsor at 8 o'clock, collided with a construction train on the same track, last night. The engine and several cars of the passenger train were wrecked.

Daniel Cox, engineer of the passenger train, was instantly killed. The construction train was in charge of a new engineer and conductor, who had orders to side track their train at Tillary until the passenger train was through.

Under these instructions the engineer ran down the main track to the west end of the switch, where he pulled a shade over the headlight. He waited until the two engines were within a few feet of each other and then he and the fireman jumped, screaming, into the ditch.

But none of the occupants, except Cox and two workmen, were injured, although they got a lively shaking.

EXPRESS AND RAILROADS.

The War Between These Companies Results in Public Affairs.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 17.—In the United States Circuit Court to-day, Judge Morrow granted an order in the case of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company against the Adams Express Company, restraining the latter, its servants and agents in Baltimore from refusing to accept parcels as might be delivered by the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad.

Baltimore & Ohio Express in the usual course of business and requiring the Adams Express Company to pay no work on the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad.

According to the use and custom between express companies; and requiring the Adams Express Company to accord all express facilities to the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company and Baltimore & Ohio Express Company.

Similar injunctions were to-day issued by Judge Brown in New York against the Adams Express Company, American Express Company and the United States Express Company.

THE DAILY BULLETIN.
FRIDAY EVE., OCTOBER 17, 1884

ROSSER & MCCARTHY,
Publishers and Proprietors,
TO WHOM ADDRESS ALL COMMUNICATIONS.

WHAT is that, Mother?
A cannon, my dear.
Why in the world
Are they firing it here?
What is it for,
Tell me if you will,
And why do they shoot it
From Sugar Loaf Hill.

Democratic Speaking.
The Cleveland, Hendricks and Powers clubs of Mason and Bracken and Robertson counties will be addressed at the Germantown Fair Grounds on Saturday, October 25th by the following distinguished Democratic speakers: Senator J. B. Beck, Col. W. C. P. Breckinridge, Hon. James Wyman. The Democratic clubs of the counties above named invite cordially, all the Democrats of this part of the State and of the border counties in Ohio, to be present. Good bands will furnish the music.

Mrs. L. V. Davis, No. 15, Court street, will have her regular fall and winter opening of pattern bonnets and round hats Friday, October 17. No cards.

GENERAL R. M. GANO, of Texas, will address the people at the council chamber this evening, at four o'clock, on "The Profits of Cattle Ranch Investment."

The work of building a handsome frame cottage on Second street, East Mayville, for Mr. F. M. Carr, began this week. Messrs. Collins, Rudy & Co., are doing the work.

Persons living on the river between this place and Portsmouth, can come to the circus to-morrow by the steamer Handy, which will remain at this place until the afternoon performance is over.

THAT cannon fired from Sugar Loaf Hill yesterday sounded rather strangely in the ears of Mr. Wadsworth's "democratic" personal friends. It is now in order to apologize for somebody's indiscretion.

Why was that cannon fired yesterday from Sugar Loaf Hill? Was it because Mr. Wadsworth, who lives there is supposed to be especially elated over the success of the forty-four caliber self-cocking bull dog revolver in Ohio?

MESSRS. GEORGE SCHATTZMAN & Co. have opened a confectionery store and bakery in the Etil building on Second street in East Mayville, and will keep at all times a full stock of everything in their line at reasonable prices. The public patronage is invited.

The first quarterly meeting for Shannon and Sardis circuits, will be held at Shannon next Saturday and Sunday. Dr. Walker, the new Presiding Elder, will be present. A full attendance of the official board is earnestly requested as it is the first quarterly meeting of the year.

Zweigart's Opening.
Mr. C. F. Zweigart announces to his friends that he has taken possession of his new quarters in the handsome building on the corner of Second and Sutton streets, and will be ready for business on Saturday morning. The public is invited to call and see him.

The forty-four caliber self-cocking bull dog revolver at the hands of Democrats prevented many of them from voting in Ohio, but it will not be so in November. Mr. Wadsworth belongs to the forty-four caliber self-cocking bull dog revolver party, and a vote for him means approval of all this party has done. Vote for him if you wish to see such things continued.

Is it Mr. Wadsworth or Mr. Powers who belongs to the party that approves the infamous outrage in Ohio?

Is it Mr. Wadsworth or Mr. Powers who would favor bringing United States Marshals into this district to control the election at the muzzles of 44 caliber self-cocking bull-dog revolvers?

Make this clear in your mind before you vote at the congressional election in November.

A LARGE cannon was transported by the Republicans yesterday afternoon to the summit of Sugar Loaf Hill and discharged some twenty-five times. What was it for? It certainly was not to celebrate a political victory for that party gained none at the late elections. West Virginia is Democratic by a largely increased majority and in Ohio, the Republicans have sustained heavy losses from the vote cast in October, 1880. We are at a loss to understand what the firing meant unless it was for the purpose of keeping up the waning courage of Mr. Wadsworth's friends in this Congressional district. If that was what it was for there was propriety in shooting it from the top of Sugar Loaf Hill.

Joseph Price, same offense.
Dock Small, same offense.
Smith Garrison, same offense.

The Lexington Transcript of the 16th instant, says:

"Wadsworth is making a hard fight in the mountain counties. He spoke at Olive Hill, Tuesday, at Denton, Tuesday night, and at Morehead yesterday. He carries a brass band. An old Republican said yesterday in the Transcript office that Wadsworth was sure to be defeated."

Think of it. The Sage of Sugar Loaf Hill drumming up votes in the mountain counties with a brass band. This is the candidate who was to have a walk-over—who was to sweep Democracy out of the district with the force of a cyclone. We can scarcely believe that Mr. Wadsworth is so stupid as to be in such a desperate straits as he is willing to parade with a brass band in the hope of capturing votes. There must be some mistake.

CHARGES OF CRUELTY

And Denial of Night of Property
Mad Against Maria Halpin.
New York, Oct. 17.—"I have been turned out of my home by this woman," said the sorrowful exclamation of Eliza Craft as she stepped from the witness stand at White Plains today, in Judge Mills' special term of the Westchester County court. The witness is an aged maiden lady who owns a life interest in the property at No. 100, in the village of White Plains, and James Albert Seward. She had lived with them both, both out of the house, and the trial of the case was begun yesterday.

The mother of the woman was Mary Craft, and she died some three years ago, leaving considerable property, a part of which is the premises in dispute. Mrs. Seward was also the daughter of Mrs. Craft, and married with her husband upon the place up to the time of her death, November 23, 1883.

Mrs. Craft for many years dwelt with Mrs. Seward. When the mother of Mrs. Seward died she bequeathed the premises occupied by Mrs. Seward to her three daughters, Eliza Craft, Harriet Seward and Jane Clark, of Harlem; but provided that Eliza should have a life interest in the place, which is worth about $4,000. Mrs. Seward is now 70 years of age, and she has been in the possession of the premises for some time. Mrs. Seward did not even enjoy the right of occupancy to occupy the premises. A few weeks after Mrs. Seward's death, an agreement was made between Mrs. Seward and Mrs. Seward, who by it was stipulated that Mrs. Seward should occupy the premises, and who is an invalid, he would occupy the premises free of rent.

Affairs went along pleasantly until about a year ago, when a dispute arose when a disturbing element in the person of Maria Halpin was placed in control of the household. Miss Craft and Maria Halpin could not agree, and on the night of July Miss Craft left the house.

In her testimony Miss Craft said that after Maria Halpin came to the house, she treated her with cruelty and maliciously, and even beat her with the latter and locked out of the house. The reason she assigned for her treatment was that she was a "spoke against Maria Halpin, who was a bad housekeeper." She could not tolerate the treatment she received at their hands, and went to a neighbor's, where she said: "I want my home and I want those people to get out of it and let me alone."

Mr. C. H. Roosevelt, counsel for Maria Halpin and J. Albert Seward, then took the witness stand and thunders this question into her ear.

"The day you left the house who was at home?"
"That Maria Halpin," she thundered back.
"You know her character; it's known all through this whole country. She was in the house, were you not?"

"Yes, and I believe that Maria, whatever she may call her, had done the business as well as she could."

Mrs. Jane Clark, Miss Craft's sister, then took the stand corroborated her sister's testimony as to the agreement and said she had heard from her sister a sorrowful tale of her treatment, but the court would not admit the testimony because it was hearsay. Her sister had told her that she had been in the house several times. Mrs. Seward was considerably agitated while this testimony was being given and interrupted lawyer known to tell him that the testimony was not true. The case was adjourned until next Saturday.

HOCKING VALLEY FIRES.

Ten Thousand Dollars Reward Offered for the Guilty Parties.
COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 17.—By continual exertions with fire engines and by stopping draught to the burning mine in the Hocking Valley, the operators have succeeded in stopping the flames in all but one. This one is located at Carbon Hill and the fire has gained such headway in the centre of the mine that it is thought no effort will avail against it. The Columbus & Hocking Coal & Iron Company advertises that they will pay a reward of $10,000 for the arrest of the guilty parties. No further demonstrations have been made by the striking miners. An effort is being made at Columbus to secure systematic donations for them during the fall and winter.

A TERRIBLE FATE.

A Mother and Child Perish in a Prairie Fire.
JAMESTOWN, Ind., Oct. 17.—Yesterday afternoon, twenty miles north of this city, the wife and three-year-old child of Carl Schroeder were burned to death in a prairie fire, which the woman was trying to extinguish. The mother and child had reached ground burned over, and were suffocated by smoke and fall, and their clothing was consumed on their bodies. When found the child was clasped in the mother's arms.

Mine Troubles.

MARQUETTE, Mich., Oct. 17.—The fire in the Calumet mine is not yet entirely extinguished. Three men who went down to the seventh level were dragged up insensible, though they remained down but six minutes. Later two others were taken up and were drawn out in a like condition and came near losing their lives. The stamp mills are being operated on rock obtained from the reserve burrows at the black hole section. The supply will last a couple of weeks, by which time it is thought the mill will be all right.

Shot and Killed.

MACON, Ga., Oct. 17.—Several weeks ago William Jordan was arrested in Calhoun County for having assisted in the murder of a daughter in sight of the girl's dying mother. The mother died, and the child was spirited away. He was discharged as there was no witness against him. Since then a bitter feeling has existed against Jordan, and to-day, Sumpter Nichols, a neighbor, who was passing by shot and killed him while he was standing on his door step. Nichols escaped.

The Postmaster Generalship.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—Mr. Marr, the veteran Chief Clerk of the First Assistant of the Post Office Department, has been designated to act as First Assistant Postmaster General, pending a permanent appointment. Mr. Walker, who is at present Chief Clerk of the Department, is expected to be the probable successor of Mr. Marr.

It Got There.

QUEENSTOWN, Oct. 17.—National Liner steamer America arrived here at 9:30 this morning, being seven hours and forty minutes behind the Cuneo, Oregon, which sailed at the same hour.

Some Incongruous Remarks.

WASHINGTON, Ky., October 16, 1884.
Editor Bulletin: I suppose the news from Ohio will only confirm Mr. Wadsworth's Democratic personal friends in their support of him. Hadn't they better just conclude to take up their citizenship in that grand old party. They will thus be saved the trouble of jumping from one to the other. Of course they must be pleased with the result in Ohio. An election carried by a system of the grandest fraud the Republic has ever seen. A few more such farces and we may bid farewell to a free ballot. X.

A HEAVY DEFALCATION

Atkinson Toyed with the Market and Lost $200,000.

"I Know there is No Palliation for the Baseness and Ingratitude of My Conduct," Says a Bank Cashier.

CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—Last night a reporter who went to the home of John A. Atkinson, defaulting member of the pork packing firm of Davies, Atkinson & Co., at Fifth street and Lake avenue, was told that he was not at home and there was no telling when he would be home. Mr. Davies was seen at his hotel and he said:

"When I arrived here on October third a clerk handed me a letter written by Mr. Atkinson, which will explain much, if not all. The letter is as follows:

"CHICAGO, Oct. 5, 1884.

"I have a most terrible confession to make. I have lost a large sum of your money in speculations on the Board of Trade, and have used money borrowed from the banks to pay losses. I don't know the amount, but it must be over $110,000. This deception on my part has been going on a long time. I made money at first and, encouraged by the hope of making up some portions of last year's losses, I took larger lines than was wise on a lot of stuff when the panic came last May. Then it was impossible to sell out, so I sold a quantity of pork short and was caught in the Armour corner. I still hold on to all the stuff after paying the loss on pork, and about five weeks ago was within a few thousand dollars of being ruined at prices collapse and left matters worse than ever. All these months I have been deceiving the banks as to the position we were in, hoping that it would come out all right. But it went from bad to worse, and every effort I made to make money only plunged me deeper into the mire. A great many trades are still open, but the market shows little sign of doing any better. I know there is no palliation for the baseness and ingratitude of my conduct, and were it not for my wife and little ones I would end my life. As it is, I am broken down by the terrible strain. It has become a habit. The letter ended abruptly at this point. Mr. Davies, the senior member of the firm, lives in England, where he disposes of all the product of the Chicago house. Finally, it is impossible to get a straight account of his business Mr. Davies resolved to come to this country and investigate for himself. The firm was started by Mr. Davies, who is a wealthy commission merchant of Liverpool, and Isaac Atkinson, a confidential clerk in his employ, who came to this city for this purpose. Mr. Atkinson was accidentally drowned in the lake off his residence in Kenwood some four years ago. John A. Atkinson succeeded to a membership in the firm on his father's death.

"The first intimation I had of anything irregular," said Mr. Davies, "was Atkinson's letter, which is corroborated by the most painful facts. I permitted the attachment by the Continental Bank for $35,000 because this note is discounted on the strength of warehouse receipts, the property of which really belongs to the Bank of Montreal. Let me explain," continued Mr. Davies. "One of the strangest clauses in the partnership contract is to the effect that Atkinson should not speculate or do anything outside of legitimate business without my consent, as he had no capital in the firm. The business here was simply to supply the Liverpool house; there was no outside trade. Some twelve months ago Atkinson asked for money. Knowing that there was small capital here I wrote to him asking why he was drawing still more, amounting to $150,000, and suggested that there must be something wrong. In reply to that he called that an employee of the firm named Harbers had been speculating unknown to him and had paid up losses in margins by excessive overdraft."

Harbers, Mr. Davies explained, was managing the commissions department of the establishment, and represented the firm on the board. His connection with the firm, of course, is at an end, and what has become of him Mr. Davies professes not to know. Regarding the latest developments, he said:

"The mother of Mr. Atkinson has started suits against the firm, one of which is for an entirely fictitious amount, which she knows; the claim is for money on deposit. Believing Atkinson to be honest and reliable I never doubted the Harbers transaction, and Harbers himself wrote me a letter to Liverpool admitting his irregularities, but not going into the books yet, but this late developments leads me to believe the speculations amount to not less than $200,000. That is as far as I can judge. It is very probable that further developments will be made in a day or two."

It is said in commercial circles that the Bank of Montreal is still out some $140,000 which it carries because Mr. Davies is not in any way in financial distress.
